

The National Archives and Records Administration
Southeast Region is pleased to welcome

Michael J. Neufeld

“Von Braun: Dreamer of Space/Engineer of War”

Friday, April 11, 2008 2:00 p.m.

The National Archives Southeast Region is pleased to announce that Michael J. Neufeld, chair of the Space History Division of the National Air and Space Museum, Smithsonian Institution, will deliver a lecture on his recently published book, Von Braun: Dreamer of Space/Engineer of War. Wernher von Braun, the chief rocket engineer of the Third Reich and creator of the infamous V-2 rocket, was one of the fathers of the United States space program.

Mr. Neufeld's research took him to numerous libraries and archival repositories, including the National Archives Southeast Region, focusing on the records from Marshall Space Flight Center, in Huntsville, Alabama.

Neufeld's book will be available for purchase, and a book signing will follow the presentation.

Location: Georgia Institute of Technology
Library, Neely Gallery

Time: 2:00 PM—3:30 PM

The session is free.
For information please call (770) 968-2100.
